

GLOBEX MINING ENTERPRISES INC.

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

Globex believes that mineral exploration and development have a positive benefit to society when our work is carried out with respect for the environment and for the communities in which we work. We seek to manage all our exploration in a manner that will minimize our impact on the environment by planning our work carefully and using environmentally responsible practices throughout our properties. Good environmental management practice has the same priority as good exploration management practice.

- We will take all necessary precautions to minimize the environmental impact of our operations and we will develop practices to mitigate environmental risks;
- We will regularly review our performance against improved practices and regulatory requirements;
- We will respect the jurisdictions in which we operate, abide locals laws, permit and license conditions;
- We will reclaim our work sites in accordance with site-specific criteria and future use in a planned and timely manner;
- We will consult with local communities of interest to manage the impacts and timing of our work.
- We will require contractors to comply with good practices and local regulations;
- We will ensure that our employees understand their environmental responsibilities and work towards improvement of environmental practices.
